Oklahoma State University (as of September 18)

Employees: Although the Stillwater campus has reopened, OSU will continue to offer temporary telework work options to faculty and staff as an option to continue worked, as directed by their supervisor. During temporary remote work options, employees should plan to be available during normal business hours to perform their regular tasks, as well as to attend meetings virtually. Employees working remotely may be required to report to campus at certain times such as for certain meetings and may be asked to return to their regular, in-office work location with short notice. All OSU students, faculty, contractors, vendors, suppliers and visitors must wear a face covering upon entering any public building on campus. OSU is providing health and safety materials and supplies for the campus. Eight disposable surgical masks are being provided to all OSU full-time employees. Two washable cloth face coverings are on order for all OSU full-time and temporary employees. Two oz. bottles of hand sanitizer will be provided for all OSU employees and 16 oz. bottles of hand sanitizer are on order for department use. Sick employees must stay home. For more information on OSU's personal health guidelines, please visit <https://go.okstate.edu/coronavirus/campus-reopening-plan/plan-at-a-glance/personal-health-guidelines.html>. University Health Services established a new reporting tool as part of their proactive health initiative for supervisors to report employees who test positive for COVID-19 and require additional assistance. Supervisors are asked to complete the "Report a Workplace COVID Case" when you are notified an employee has tested positive.

Students: The Student Union is open. Current building hours are 6:30 a.m. to 6:00 p.m., Monday through Friday. Hours will be adjusted as students return to campus. Many of the services in the building have resumed regular operating hours. Some departments housed within the building are still telecommuting. Library business hours will be reduced during the fall semester to allow time for overnight cleaning and sanitizing. All OSU students, faculty, contractors, vendors, suppliers and visitors must wear a face covering upon entering any public building on campus. OSU is providing health and safety materials and supplies for the campus. Students with health-related concerns regarding wearing a face covering for class should contact Student Accessibility Services at 405-744-7116 or accessibility@okstate.edu. Two oz. bottles of hand sanitizer will be provided for all OSU students and 16 oz. bottles of hand sanitizer are on order for department use. Student events this fall will follow guidelines of state and local health officials with regards to the limits on attendees. OSU's policy regarding social distancing guidelines and requirements of masks will apply. All Greek chapters will follow the campus reopening guidelines from OSU as they pertain to daily life in a chapter house. Chapters are urged to comply with CDC guidelines by holding virtual events where possible and follow social distancing measures, increase cleaning/disinfection of facilities and other protocols.

Housing and Dining: OSU is mandating that everyone who lives in the residence halls or Family and Graduate Student Housing to be tested prior to checking into their assigned living space. Further information about testing and procedures will be sent to every resident's okstate email address prior to their assigned move-in day. OSU is also implementing a staggered move-in schedule for campus residents. Campus residents will receive a mask when they check into their residence hall. Information regarding move-in procedures can be found at: <https://go.okstate.edu/coronavirus/latest-announcements/20-21moving-in.html>. University Dining Services has reduced the capacity for seating to allow for social distancing within OSU dining facilities. Some dining operations will only be available via an online ordering app to reduce waiting time and exposure risk. Take-out and delivery options are strongly encouraged. There will be approximately 300 bed spaces available for quarantine. These will be assigned as needed as space is available.

Commencement: Due to the COVID-19 pandemic, Oklahoma State University's May commencement ceremonies will be held in Stillwater on Dec. 11-12. An online RSVP will be sent to the May graduating class. For those unable to participate in the December events, the committee is exploring options to recognize them online or at other future ceremonies.

Travel: All university-affiliated international travel for students, regardless of location or nature, has been canceled, including summer study abroad trips. Faculty or staff international travel is also currently prohibited.

Summer 2020 Courses: The Dean's Council unanimously agreed to move all intersession (with the exception of August intersession and summer courses) online in order to further comply with social distancing guidelines set forth by health officials. Students enrolled in summer courses will receive additional information soon from their instructor via email or Canvas. All summer camps originally scheduled to be held on the Stillwater campus are canceled. All OSU events scheduled through July 1 will be held virtually, rescheduled or canceled. This includes, but is not limited to recruitment events, tours, student programs, reunions, performances, conferences and social events. New Student Orientation will remain a virtual experience all summer regardless of date. We will continue to evaluate event hosting and will issue an announcement regarding events slated after July 1. OSU has made the decision to waive online fees for all online summer 2020 classes, including summer intersession.

Fall 2020: Students can find their enrollment date in the Notes section of their Student Profile in Self-Service or on the Office of the Registrar page. Oklahoma State University intends to have on-campus classes this fall. Our campus leadership and COVID-19 Advisory Group are working on a variety of plans to ensure the wellbeing of our community remains paramount. The sweeping plans will consider classroom size, class structures and schedules, safety in student housing and protective methods for monitoring and maintaining our collective and individual health. We will assess our plans and timeline as we closely monitor the state's decline in COVID-19 cases and will share with you detailed plans this summer.

Fall 2020 COVID-19 Mitigation Efforts: Please visit <https://go.okstate.edu/coronavirus/index.html> to see OSU's return-to-campus schedule and plan and personal health guidelines. All OSU students, faculty, contractors, vendors, suppliers and visitors must wear a face covering upon entering any public building on campus. OSU has launched a Coronavirus dashboard: <https://go.okstate.edu/coronavirus/statistics.html>

Community Support: Oklahoma State University is helping Oklahoma ramp up its COVID-19 testing capability after procuring supplies sufficient to analyze approximately 10,000 COVID-19 test samples being taken by health care professionals across the state. Through coordination with partners from the OSU Center for Health Sciences, the lab has been certified by the Center for Medicare and Medicaid Services to run the tests for COVID-19. In partnership with the Oklahoma State Department of Health (OSDH), OSU's certified diagnostic laboratory has the personnel and equipment to begin testing. The OSU Animal Disease Diagnostic Lab has played a critical role in testing hundreds of Oklahomans for COVID-19, far more than the state's resources originally could allow. The Animal Disease Diagnostic Lab received enough supply to conduct 10,000 tests, and it has a maximum capacity to conduct more than 2,000 tests in one day. This puts OSU in a position to carry out the highest number of COVID-19 tests of any lab inside Oklahoma's borders. OSU is offering free COVID-19 oral swab testing for students and employees at University Health Services on the main Stillwater campus. The voluntary drive-up/walk-up service will be by appointment to OSU students and employees. To make an appointment, patients should call (405) 744-7665 or login to your Patient Portal to schedule an appointment. Patients should bring their OSU Stillwater ID on testing day. The OSU Alumni Association and OSU Foundation have created a page to offer assistance to Cowboys in need and provide ways for Cowboys to help each other: <https://cowboy.family/>

CARES Act: With federal funding now available, OSU is able to provide some financial assistance to our students who have been economically impacted by this global pandemic. We are referring to this relief effort at OSU as the

Cowboy CARES Emergency Grant. Students please log in at my.okstate.edu to complete the application form under the Student tab to be considered for the Cowboy CARES Emergency Grant funding. We also ask faculty and staff members who know of students needing help to please direct them to the application form in the portal. Funding for this emergency financial assistance is limited and may vary from person to person. For more information, contact the Scholarships and Financial Aid office at (405) 744-6604 or finaid@okstate.edu

University of Oklahoma (as of September 18)

Employees: Beginning Monday, August 3, the Norman campus Phase III return plan will begin. Those employees who have been directed by their supervisors to return to work on campus will be required to do so on or before August 3. Remote working arrangements will still be broadly encouraged, where practical and approved by supervisors, throughout Phase III. Employees who believe they have a condition that may prevent them from returning to campus and/or resuming their normal job duties may request accommodation through OU Human Resources. Staff may also make requests for flexibility in their work arrangement in accordance with the staff flexibility guidelines provided by Human Resources. Employees will be provided masks and all individuals in indoor University facilities must wear fabric or disposable surgical-style masks that cover their nose and mouth. Individuals may remove masks only if they are in their own enclosed private workspace with no one else present and while participating in activities in which a face mask cannot practically be worn, such as eating and drinking or playing a musical instrument or singing as part of their work. The University has created a new policy and resource programs to help meet the needs and challenges OU employees may be facing regarding unexpected costs for care for family members. Funds for the program are limited. Benefits eligible employees with a .50 FTE or higher can apply for the OU Family Care Resources policy at https://www.ou.edu/web/news_events/articles/news_2020/new-family-care-resources-policy.

Students: Students will be provided masks and all individuals in indoor University facilities must wear fabric or disposable surgical-style masks that cover their nose and mouth. Individuals may remove masks when inside University facilities only when alone in an enclosed room and while participating in activities in which a face mask cannot practically be worn, such as eating and drinking or playing a musical instrument or singing as part of an academic assignment. Students are not required to wear masks in their dorm rooms, but are strongly encouraged to do so, particularly when others are present. Students must inform their guests that each guest must wear a surgical-style mask that covers their nose and mouth while in University facilities, as required by this policy. If a student indicates compliance with this Masks for Students policy is not possible due to medical reasons, the student should be referred to the Accessibility & Disability Resource Center to request an accommodation. Access to campus buildings will return to normal operations on August 3, 2020. Third-party food delivery services may not enter or be given access to enter campus buildings. Individuals ordering from these services must arrange to meet the delivery person outside of the building. Sarkeys Fitness Center will resume operations for Fall 2020. Study areas throughout University Libraries have been marked to promote social distancing. Study rooms are available for reservation and must be reserved for use. A number of library services are now available by appointment only. All gatherings and events on university property, as well as OU-sponsored events held off campus (including classes, athletic events, co-curricular events, registered student organization events and general campus events), must adhere to the COVID-19 capacity limits as determined for each venue. The type and date of an event can impact capacity limits. All gatherings and events must also observe the university's masking and social distancing guidelines. Third-party events unaffiliated with the university are prohibited through at least December 31, 2020 unless approved by the Campus Scheduling Office.

Housing and Dining: All students moving into campus housing at the University of Oklahoma must take a COVID-19 test before arrival. Only residents of the Kraettli Apartments are exempt from the testing requirement because of the facility's lower population density and family-style housing. OU will mail at-home test to students through Vault Health. All campus residents are required to complete an online health screening five days before returning to Norman. Students must complete this step regardless of their test result. Those who test positive must stay home away from campus until OU Health Services allows them to move to their residence hall. For information regarding move-in procedures, please visit: <https://www.ou.edu/housingandfood/move-in>. Bookmark Café at Bizzell Memorial Library, Starbucks at the Oklahoma Memorial Union, Jan Marie and Richard J. Crawford University Club at the Oklahoma Memorial Union, Freshens at Sarkeys Fitness Center, Bedrock Café at Sarkeys Energy Center, Redbud Café at Sam Noble Museum, and The Trailer at OU will be closed for the duration of Fall 2020. Couch Restaurants, Residential Colleges Dining, and Wagner Dining will accept meal plans only. At these three locations, there will be no cash or credit cards, no staff discounts, no departmental meetings, and no outside groups due to limited available seating require to facilitate proper social distancing. All other Food Service locations will not accept cash in order to help reduce contact during payment. Students will still be permitted to sit and dine in OU dining halls, with certain safety protocols in place. There will be no self-serve lines, and grab-and-go options will be available. Third-party food delivery services may not enter or be given access to enter campus buildings. Individuals ordering from these services must arrange to meet the delivery person outside of the building. If an OU Housing resident tests positive during the semester, they will be provided a room to temporarily live in to self-isolate.

Commencement: OU has announced that it will further push the commencement ceremonies for the class of 2020 back to May 2021. OU had planned for an August ceremony after postponing spring graduation ceremonies in May 2020 in an effort to slow the spread of COVID-19, but OU has recently stated that an August event would be a health risk due to the heat and coronavirus restrictions.

Travel: For all employees, students, resident physicians, and mission-critical campus visitors/vendors – If you have returned from domestic or international travel in the last 14 days, you must complete a screening for assessment and clearance PRIOR to returning to campus. Domestic travel is defined as travel outside the state of Oklahoma. Please note that campus is closed to visitors and vendors who are not considered mission-critical. OU employees, students, and resident physicians: please complete the online COVID-19 Travel Screening Form (found on the OU COVID-19 website) as soon as possible. Mission-Critical Campus Visitors/Vendors: Contact the appropriate campus for a screening (Norman Campus – 405-325-8732; OUHSC – 405-271-2577 or employee-health@ouhsc.edu; OU-Tulsa – 918-660-3102 or TulsaStudentHealth@ouhsc.edu). All OU study abroad for fall 2020 has been canceled.

Summer 2020 Courses: Norman campus summer classes will be offered exclusively online. This includes Norman-based programs at OU-Tulsa. Students wishing to enroll for summer session may do so by visiting ou.edu/summersession. Services like OU Libraries, the Writing Center, Student Learning Center, and Information Technology, have gone to great lengths to assure that students will be seamlessly served virtually. Students enrolled in Health Sciences Center programs have received or will soon receive direct communications from their colleges about online instruction and modifications to clinical and community-based instruction.

Fall 2020: OU intends to resume in-person classes this fall at its campuses in Norman, Tulsa, and Oklahoma City. The University has spent the past several weeks actively planning for our return. Components of the plan include: sections with 40 students or fewer can be held in person as usual; we are moving sections with enrollments over 40 online; we are adding new, smaller in-person sections to many of our first-year classes to ensure the undergraduate experience remains a highly personal, face-to-face OU learning experience; in an effort to facilitate effective social distancing, the class schedule will be extended throughout the day and spread out to accommodate 30-minute windows between classes, rather than the traditional 10-minute break, to limit the number of people in buildings at one time; we will also utilize larger classrooms, aiming for 50-75% maximum capacity wherever practical for increased social distancing. These modifications, in addition to our Clean and Green initiative, will be cornerstones of our plan to come back together, safely.

Fall 2020 COVID-19 Mitigation Efforts: Please visit <http://ou.edu/safeandresilient> and <http://ou.edu/cleanandgreen> to learn more about the University of Oklahoma's plans and initiatives. For information on the University Mandatory Masking Policy, please visit <http://www.ou.edu/coronavirus/masking-policy>. All individuals in indoor University facilities must wear fabric or disposable surgical-style masks that cover their nose and mouth. Bandanas and scarves are not acceptable. OU's COVID-19 dashboard can be found at: <https://www.ou.edu/together/dashboard>. OU has also launched a COVID-19 testing program for residential students, along with regular sampling of wastewater from across campus, including residence halls, to study virus levels – two strategies that will provide an early warning system for positive cases in the most densely populated areas. Starting September 4, students living in OU housing who are not reporting symptoms of COVID-19 are encouraged to participate in the voluntary testing program.

Community Support: OU Medicine and its academic partner, the University of Oklahoma Health Sciences Center (OUHSC), along with the Oklahoma Medical Research Foundation, have launched a multifaceted strategy to begin testing samples on campus as soon as possible. Oklahoma Medical Research Foundation (OMRF) scientists are teaming with the OU HSC in an emergency effort to process COVID-19 tests. OU Medicine is preparing mobile emergency rooms, located near the Emergency Room entrance of OU Medical Center, 700 NE 13th St., to help medically screen urgent and emergent patients for COVID-19. OUHSC has launched a research collaborating with Pure MHC, a biotechnology company, to work toward the development of a vaccine for the COVID-19 virus. OU Medicine announced Thursday, April 9, that it is partnering with the Mayo Clinic to carry out a new clinical trial to assist with treatment of the sickest COVID-19 patients. The trial, which OU joined this week, takes plasma from individuals who have recovered from COVID-19 and gives it to those who are still extremely ill with the virus. More than 40 individuals from across the University of Oklahoma's three campuses have combined their expertise to develop, prototype, validate and offer recommended essential equipment designs.

CARES Act: In response to COVID-19, the President signed into law the CARES Act to help students and families affected by the pandemic. During this time to avoid possible scams, OU urges all students and families to contact the Student Financial Center directly to discuss their account information.

Contact for Health-Related Questions: If you have been in close contact with an individual diagnosed with COVID-19, call or email your campus health clinic: Norman – Goddard Health Services Nurse Line – 405-325-8732; OUHSC – 405-271-2577 or employee-health@ouhsc.edu; OU-Tulsa – 918-660-3102 or TulsaStudentHealth@ouhsc.edu. If you begin experiencing symptoms that could be consistent with COVID-19, please remain home and contact your campus health clinic for further guidance regarding restrictions to return to campus. Please contact your primary care provider with any personal medical questions and for guidance concerning your specific symptoms.

Employees: Faculty offices will reopen on May 28, 2020, for those involved with summer instruction. Availability and access to individual buildings or portions of buildings on campus can be found on <https://www.cameron.edu/covid-19/whats-open-whats-not>. Staggered work schedules will end and employees will return to assigned workplace locations for their regularly scheduled hours of work on June 1, 2020. Individual employee circumstances could vary according to personal health risk factors and dependent care responsibilities. Employees are strongly encouraged to observe social distancing at all times. Meetings of five or more should be conducted by virtual means if possible. Employees are strongly encouraged to utilize screens or to wear masks when in campus locations where engagement with students, prospective students, or visitors is likely. Some departments may continue to have staggered work schedules for employees in order to comply with COVID-19 health and safety guidelines. CU employees with specific questions about personal health risk factors and dependent care responsibilities should direct them to the Office of Human Resources. Any campus guests will be requested to meet these Campus Health Expectations: Practice good hygiene, monitor your personal health daily, stay home if you are sick, respect personal space, and cover your nose and mouth by wearing masks when social distancing is not possible or guaranteed. Properly worn masks, face coverings or face shields will be required of everyone within all Cameron University facilities and on all university properties when and where social distancing of six or more feet is not assured. Face coverings will be provided to employees and will be made available to students as soon as received from the manufacturer to supplement existing supplies. Please visit <https://www.cameron.edu/covid-19/whats-open-whats-not> for a list of what locations on campus are open for employees, students, and visitor access.

Students: For a list of buildings open to students, please visit: <https://www.cameron.edu/covid-19/whats-open-whats-not>. For students employed on campus as student workers or assistants, additional information will be provided by email. The Lone Star Conference suspended all spring sports competition for the remainder of the spring 2020 season. All Cameron University classes, events, and activities are expected to support social distancing of at least six feet between individual participants unless appropriate screens, masks, or other personal protective equipment are utilized. Specific guidance for room occupancy and the conduct of instruction in classrooms and laboratories for the summer term is available through the Office of Academic Affairs. Room and facility reservations for Cameron University prospective students and activities will resume on July 6, 2020. Reservations for other CU non-instructional events, as well as events and activities inside buildings by external groups may be submitted to the Office of Events Management for dates after the conclusion of the summer instructional term that ends on July 23, 2020. Specific questions may be directed to Carey Monroe, Director of Events Management at cmonroe@cameron.edu. Because of the potential need to use certain areas for classroom instruction, the following areas will not be available for rental/reservation for the foreseeable future: The CETES Conference Center, McMahan Centennial Complex rooms 211 and 212. Cameron University will not host face-to-face residential or day campus during July. At a later date, some events may be rescheduled. Any campus guests will be requested to meet these Campus Health Expectations: Practice good hygiene, monitor your personal health daily, stay home if you are sick, respect personal space, and cover your nose and mouth by wearing masks when social distancing is not possible or guaranteed. Properly worn masks, face coverings or face shields will be required of everyone within all Cameron University facilities and on all university properties when and where social distancing of six or more feet is not assured. Face coverings will be provided to employees and will be made available to students as soon as received from the manufacturer to supplement existing supplies.

Housing: Those who live on campus are encouraged to remain at home for the remainder of the spring 2020 semester but will be allowed to return to their Cameron Village apartments or Shepler dormitory rooms. Modified food service will be available to resident students with meal plans. Effective March 23 until further notice, Cameron Village apartment blocks and residential floors in the Shepler Towers are restricted to occupants and support staff only. Student Housing and Residential Life staff have established an express check out process that minimizes human contact and maintains social distancing. Building and room access is expected to be coordinated with on-call housing staff to assure security of personal property and to assure social distancing. Once a CU housing student leaves the dormitories or apartments, they may not return to housing without express written consent by the Vice President of Enrollment Management and Student Success.

Commencement: Cameron University announced that it plans to hold an outdoor ceremony in October to award degrees to the Class of 2020. The rescheduled event – complete with the traditional fireworks display, will start at 7:30 p.m. on Saturday, October 10, in Cameron Stadium.

Travel: Out of State Travel – All university-sponsored travel, out-of-state or international, is suspended until further notice unless such travel is mission critical to the university or is a public safety obligation. In-State Travel – All university-sponsored in-state travel requests will be reviewed using the same process as normally used for out-of-state travel requests. Please allow additional time for processing of requests. Where applicable, meeting by telephone or other virtually enhanced environment is strongly encouraged. Personal Travel – The University advises all individuals to exercise caution during personal travel of any kind and to stay informed by regularly checking the CDC website. Please be aware that countries, states, or counties may impose restrictions that limit your movement at any time and with little notice.

Summer 2020 Courses: The summer term at Cameron University will look much like the conclusion of the Spring 2020 semester. The majority of courses will be offered in a virtual format so that the university can practice social distancing and minimize the further spread of COVID-19. An up-to-date schedule of courses, including locations and course formats, may be found at: <https://www.cameron.edu/info/schedules>. Students should check this site regularly for course enrollment updates. Cameron University will not host face-to-face residential or day camps during the months of May, June, or July.

Fall 2020: The Fall 2020 semester should more closely resemble the past with opportunities for face-to-face instruction or technology-mediated instruction (ITV, online, and hybrid) but there will be significant changes on campus to assure a safe and healthy learning environment in CU classrooms, laboratories, visual and performing arts spaces, residential facilities, and athletics and recreational areas. The university will also be prepared to rapidly return to virtual learning environments if circumstances warrant. Student learning is Cameron's top priority but that cannot be accomplished well if students and employees are not safe and healthy, too. Students may anticipate that the university will increase the frequency and the types of cleaning in all campus locations. Students should expect classes to be scheduled in larger rooms to respect social distancing. Access to communal spaces, restrooms, stairwells and elevators will be modified. For campus residents, there will be modifications to policy and practice, including additional restrictions to visitor access.

Fall 2020 COVID-19 Mitigation Efforts: Please visit <https://www.cameron.edu/covid-19/summer-and-fall-2020-classes> to learn more about Cameron University's plans. Properly worn masks, face coverings or face shields will be required of everyone within all Cameron University facilities and on all university properties when and where social distancing of six or more feet is not assured. For more information on CU's mandated mask policy, please visit <https://www.cameron.edu/covid-19/masks-mandated-on-the-cu-campus>.

CARES Act: Cameron University has been designated to receive funding from the U.S. Department of Education to provide emergency assistance to students due to the COVID-19 pandemic. These funds are available to be disbursed as grants to eligible students who meet certain criteria. The grants, which do not have to be repaid, are intended to provide funds for students to cover unforeseen expenses related to the disruption of campus operations due to COVID-19, included (but not limited to) food, housing, healthcare, and course-related materials or services, such as technology. For CU students to be eligible, they must meet the following criteria: be a U.S. citizen or an eligible noncitizen, and have a valid Social Security number; be registered with Selective Service, if required; been enrolled in at least one Cameron University course on March 13, 2020. Community Support: The ECU School of Nursing and Health Services Center have donated items to Alliance Health Madill, Chickasaw Nation Medical Center, SSM Health St. Anthony Hospital – Shawnee, and Mercy Hospital – Ada. ECU also began a S.H.A.R.E. (Student Help and Resources in Emergencies) fund to help students who are now faced with unexpected changes such as loss of jobs, food insecurities, as well as other needs. ECU students in the Human Development, Hospitality and Food Services department delivered the first batch of 100 hand-sewn face masks to the Chickasaw Nation Medical Center on Wednesday, April 15. Sidelined by the coronavirus, ECU students are making the masks at home. They are currently working on the next batch for Mercy Hospital, and some students who live outside of the Ada area are making masks for their own local hospitals. ECU Students in the Human Development, Hospitality, and Food Services department created a batch of 100 hand-sewn face masks that were presented to Mercy Hospital in Ada on May 4.

CARES Act: ECU has applied for funding through the CARES Act and will disburse it to students as soon as it is received. Students will be asked to attest they have a need for the funds. Students who were taking on-ground courses as of March 13 and students who completed the FAFSA or are eligible to complete the FAFSA may receive the funding. Eligible students will receive an email from evals@ecok.edu to certify their eligibility and need. The awards will be based on the spring semester credit hours and be for students currently enrolled. The funds will be issued to the Bank Mobile card the University uses for refunds. The funds are considered a grant and do not need to be paid back to the University.

Limits will be placed on the number of guests allowed in all meeting rooms in the Student Center. The bookstore will offer dorm delivery when students order online and choose in store pick up. The J.R. Holder Wellness Center will be open from 6:00 a.m. to 9:00 p.m. Monday through Friday, from 9:00 a.m. to 3:00 p.m. on Saturday, and from 4:00 p.m. to 8:00 p.m. on Sunday, with limits to the number of people in the facilities. Campus events will be reevaluated depending on possible new guidance from the CDC, WHO and state officials. Some events may be subject to a limited audience. All event attendees will be encouraged to adhere to university policy where recommended face covering and social distancing can take place. NWOSU's homecoming events are postponed. The homecoming events originally scheduled for October 8-10 are tentatively being planned for spring 2021. The Great American Conference's Council of Presidents announced Friday, August 14, the league will suspend all fall and winter sports – basketball, cross country, football, soccer, and volleyball – and the two-semester sports of golf and tennis through December 31.

Exterior doors are to be closed and locked at all times, except when used to enter and exit the building. Do not prop open exterior doors. For students who are sick or exhibit symptoms, the University's strong recommendation will be for the student to quarantine at home for a minimum of 14 days or until they can provide a negative test result for a COVID-19 test. If the student is unable to go home, arrangements will be made by the university to provide a place to stay while continuing to take classes via alternative delivery methods. Costs for off-campus stay may be incurred by the student. Arrangements for delivered meals will be provided by the housing staff via Chartwells Dining. Chartwells has implemented a number of new policies and procedures to serve students and guests in the Coronado Cafeteria. Total guests in the cafeteria at one time will be limited. Employees will serve all food to guests with no buffet style options. Self-serve machines and containers have been removed.

Commencement: The fall 2020 commencement ceremony will take place on December 6, 2020 at 4:00 p.m. The rescheduled spring 2020 commencement ceremony will take place in a separate ceremony on December 6, 2020 at 1:00 p.m. This plan will be continually evaluated as the fall semester proceeds.

Travel: All international travel has been suspended. Professional development opportunities should be handled by Zoom and by distance learning, if possible. Out-of-state travel or in-state travel for conferences or professional development must be approved by your supervisor. Final approval is by Vice President for Administration or Executive Vice President. Traveling to another campus to teach is discouraged. Request for exceptions will be made through your supervisor and dean of faculty. Staff travel must be approved/disapproved by supervisor and appropriate senior staff members. The NWOSU Study Abroad program is suspended until further notice.

Summer 2020 Courses: Please visit www.nwosu.edu/coronavirus for an announcement regarding courses and their teaching format for Summer 2020.

Fall 2020: Northwestern Oklahoma State University officials have announced the university's intent to resume face-to-face instruction and ITV courses for the fall 2020 semester. Northwestern will continue to follow guidance from the Centers for Disease Control and Governor Kevin Stitt's guidelines according to the Open Up and Recover Safely Plan. Northwestern's campus leadership is currently formulating a variety of plans to ensure the safety and health of Northwestern students, staff, faculty and communities during the fall semester. Due to the unknowns related to COVID-19, this situation could change quickly. Northwestern will exchange the two-day fall break for an additional two days during Thanksgiving break for the fall 2020 semester. On October 15 and 16, students and employees will remain on campus for classes and work. Thanksgiving break will take place from Nov. 23-27. We are expecting to limit the number of times students leave for home and return to campus. This will limit our students' exposure to COVID-19 and chances of bringing it on campus. This plan will leave the greatest flexibility for response as we continue to monitor developments of COVID-19 closer to Thanksgiving break.

Fall 2020 COVID-19 Mitigation Efforts: Starting July 27, NWOSU is requiring the wearing of face coverings on campus. The developed policy states that face coverings will be required in all classroom settings, as well as campus buildings. The only exception will be that face coverings may be removed in work offices when social distancing can be accomplished. To learn more about NWOSU's Campus Reopening Plan, Rangers Return, please visit <https://www.nwosu.edu/coronavirus/reopening>.

Community Support: NWOSU's Charles Morton Share Trust Division of Nursing donated personal protective equipment to Integris Bass Baptist Hospital to aid in the nationwide shortage. With Northwestern's nursing program using alternative instructional delivery methods for the remainder of the semester, an abundance of these items were no longer needed to complete coursework. More than 700 items were donated and included particulate respirator masks, surgical masks with face shields, surgical masks with ties, ear loop face masks, yellow isolation gowns, isolation packs, and training equipment.

Southeastern Oklahoma State University (as of September 18)

Employees: Southeastern will adopt the American College Health Association: Considerations for Reopening Institutions of Higher Education in the COVID-19 Era as the guideline for the repopulation of our campus community. Beginning immediately, and through the Fall semester, the university will require that all students, faculty, staff, and visitors wear face coverings when they are in buildings on campus, unless wearing face coverings is contrary to meeting educational or participation objectives as determined by the faculty and staff. One cloth face covering will be provided to each employee and student. While face coverings are not required in outdoor spaces, they are strongly recommended where 6 feet of physical distancing is difficult to maintain. Individuals are not required to wear face coverings in a campus building if they are alone in a private office or space, or if they are in their assigned residence hall room. Those seeking an exception as an accommodation should contact the Human Resources Office. Visitors, vendors, and contractors are under the same requirement for face coverings while on campus and are asked to supply their own face coverings. PPE has been distributed to each department for full-time, part-time and student employees.

Students seeking a personal exception to this policy as an accommodation should contact the Disabilities Office. Students without coverings, or those who do not comply with the rules relating to face coverings, will not be able to participate in on-campus classroom activities. Failure to comply with the face coverings requirement may result in the Instructor directing the student to leave the classroom. Any student asked to leave the classroom may be referred to the Office of Student Conduct. The Athletics Department will seek to administer a one-time COVID-19 swab test to returning athletes at the time of pre-participation screening and return to competition due to the unique circumstances of physical proximity in practice and gameplay. Athletics will limit attendance at both indoor and outdoor venues that is a percentage of capacity capable of promoting social distancing, and some sections of seating will be modified or restricted. University sanctioned/sponsored events must comply with guidelines set forth by the University for events on and off campus. The University reserves the right to cancel any event due to health and safety concerns. Student Organization meetings and events this fall will follow the guidelines of SEOSU with regards to limits on attendees for indoor and outdoor events, social distancing guidelines, and the requirement of masks inside all university buildings.

Housing and Dining: Regarding Fall 2020, Southeastern will end face-to-face instruction on November 23 and shift to online or remote delivery for the last full week of classes, followed by a finals week conducted virtually. Southeastern will provide a pro-rated refund of Room and Board charges to all students who choose to move out of their residence hall by November 20 (last day of face-to-face instruction) for the final two weeks of the semester (November 30-December 11). The residence halls will remain open until the end of the semester, but this will give students an option if they choose to move out early. By November 1, students must state their intention and meet the criteria for remaining in the halls after November 20. Students who need to stay/return to campus would be allowed to remain in the residence halls for the normal length of the semester for any remaining housing needs including for those more voluntary activities like athletics, aviation training, and commencement ceremonies. Residents will be required to abide by any additional safety measures imposed upon their return from break. Housing and Residence Life will assign one resident per room and no more than two students per bathroom in each of the residence halls. Residents will be required to identify at least two locations where they could evacuate in the event that the University requires them to quarantine/isolate or if the University closes the Residence Halls. This will be included as a contract addendum and does not constitute a termination of the contract. Quarantine rooms are available for instances when a student cannot quarantine/isolate off campus.

Commencement: Southeastern previously announced that the spring semester 2020 graduation ceremonies will not take place as regularly scheduled in order to adhere to health guidelines implemented to help prevent the spread of COVID-19. We are now working with an external vendor to provide each student with personalized graduation recognition that will launch on May 9, 2020. Each student will have a personalized web page with social media tie-ins provided by Southeastern. We are also inviting spring graduates to participate in formal ceremonies by walking across the stage at the Fall Commencement in December 2020.

Travel: On July 10, 2020, Governor Stitt published Executive Order 2020-20. The following reflects this order and the University guidelines. In-state travel is restricted, but allowed, but is still highly discouraged. In-state travel should only occur when there is a clear directive from the Regents or for essential duties that are approved by the Division's Senior Office and the President. Travel restrictions do not include traveling to locations to work at University-sponsored events. There remains a ban on traveling for recruitment purposes. No University-sponsored international travel is allowed at this time and out of state domestic travel must be approved by the President until such time as the state has lifted the moratorium.

Summer 2020 Courses: As previously announced, summer classes will be offered online. We are continuing to monitor conditions created by COVID-19 and by no later than mid-May, will decide if a limited number of face-to-face and/or blended courses can be safely offered. If so, they will be added to the summer schedule; please regularly check your email and SE Coronavirus updates.

Fall 2020: The safety of our students, staff, faculty, and campus visitors is Southeastern's utmost concern. After careful deliberation, it is our intention to allow students to return to campus for face-to-face classes, on-campus functions, research, and other such activities this fall. This intended return to campus will be predicated on the achievement of conditions established by local, state, and federal entities. Southeastern will end face-to-face instruction on November 23 and then shift to online or remote delivery. This online or remote delivery will include the last full week of classes and be followed by a Finals Week conducted virtually with either online exams or alternative projects/presentations.

Fall 2020 COVID-19 Mitigation Efforts: Please visit <https://www.se.edu/student-wellness/coronavirus-update/> to learn more about Southeastern Oklahoma State University's Return to Campus Plan. The University will require that all students, faculty, staff, and visitors wear face coverings when they are in buildings on campus, unless wearing face coverings is contrary to meeting educational or participation objectives as determined by faculty and staff.

Community Support: No updates at this time.

CARES Act: Students' eligibility is based on their ability to apply for or have previously applied for Federal Financial aid or Title IV aid. Notification of amounts disbursed to students will be available on Campus Connect on the student info tab under the view financial aid option. Your stipend will be processed by Herring Bank no later than Monday, May 11th, 2020 to your designated bank account with Herring Bank. If you do not have a direct deposit designation set up with Herring Bank, a check will be mailed from Herring Bank to your address on file. Fall 2020 COVID-19 Mitigation Efforts: Please visit <https://bulldog.swosu.edu/coronavirus/reopen-campus.php> to learn more about Southwestern Oklahoma State University's phased reopening. SWOSU will require facial coverings for students, faculty, visitors, and staff in hallways and classrooms for the fall 2020 semester. SWOSU has created a

COVID-19 case dashboard, which can be found at: <https://bulldog.swosu.edu/coronavirus/active-covid-19-cases-swosu.php>

Community Support: SWOSU donated a large number of protective masks to area hospitals for health care workers. “SWOSU has a large number of health-related disciplines so we fortunately have a large supply that we typically use in our lab areas,” University President Randy Beutler said. “The hospitals work with so many of our students, and we felt it was appropriate to help our medical friends in Western Oklahoma.” SWOSU has donated supplies to Great Plains Hospital in Elk City, Weatherford Regional Hospital, and Canadian Valley Hospital in Yukon. The Engineering Technology Department is using 3D printers to create face shields for healthcare workers across the state and assembling ventilators for the Weatherford Regional Hospital.

CARES Act: Students who meet basic eligibility criteria for federal financial aid will receive a cash grant. If a student has filed or is eligible to file a FAFSA, the student will be eligible to receive a payment. We anticipate these cash grants will be disbursed starting the week of May 4. Under the U.S. Department of Education rules for the program, these funds can be awarded to undergraduate, graduate and professional students pursuing degree programs and enrolled at SWOSU. The U.S. Department of Education does not allow these funds to be used for: international students; undocumented students; concurrent students; or students taking classes completely online. The estimated distribution to the student will be $38.34 per credit hour. Therefore, a student taking 15 credit hours may receive around $575. The monies will be issued to students through direct deposit or check, according to the method of distribution that the student has chosen in the Touchnet payment portal system. If students have questions about this, please contact the Bursar’s office at (580) 774-3019 or email bursar@swosu.edu. By May 9, SWOSU had distributed more than $1.6 million to students.

Contact for Health-Related Questions: Employees who test positive for COVID-19 should contact their supervisor and/or Human Resources as soon as possible. Supervisors should communicate with HR directly in the event of a positive COVID-19 test. Departments should maintain the confidentiality of the student or employee. Administration will coordinate with local health officials to determine a course of action.

UCO requires all students, employees, and visitors to wear a mask when around others, both indoors and outdoors, and practice physical distancing of at least six feet when possible. Students requesting disability accommodations during this time are asked to email dss@uco.edu or call (405) 974-2516. Academic advisement will continue either online or by telephone. Students can schedule appointments by emailing advisement@uco.edu. Virtual meetings and events will be encouraged. All new students, faculty, and staff arriving for the first time in Oklahoma directly from an international destination and anyone who has recently returned from an international trip are required to self-quarantine for 14 days following current CDC guidelines. New and returning students traveling to Oklahoma directly from an international location are recommended to arrive at least two weeks prior to the start of classes on August 17.

Summer 2020 Courses: UCO's courses will be offered remotely by alternative delivery methods but not necessarily online.

Fall 2020: While planning continues for a safe return to in-person instruction for the fall 2020 semester, we have made decisions on changes for the instructional calendar that are intended to support our overall health and safety efforts. These changes include: eliminating fall break October 15-16 and continuing with class instruction during this period; concluding in-person classroom instruction by November 24, prior to Thanksgiving Break; continuing class activities virtually during Quiet Week, November 30-December 4; and conducting final exams online December 7-11. Community Support: The UCO Forensic Science Institute responded to an urgent call for supplies with a donation to INTEGRIS Health Edmond. "Since classes are currently suspended at UCO, we had supplies that were urgently needed in Edmond hospitals. The faculty and staff of the Forensic Science Institute wanted to help in this small way by providing masks, gloves, disposable lab coats and Tyvek suits, and also to say 'thank you' to our health care workers," said Dwight Adams, Ph.D., director of UCO's W. Roger Webb FSI. The UCO Foundation is raising funds to help students experiencing unexpected hardships during the COVID-19 pandemic. Since launching March 25, the UCO COVID-19 Emergency Relief Fund crowdfunding campaign has generated more than $32,000 from donors. The UCO Foundation matched funds dollar-for-dollar up to $20,000, and the UCO Student Association matched up to $10,000. The relief fund offers limited emergency financial assistance to current UCO students who are unable to meet immediate, essential expenses because of temporary hardship related to an unexpected situation. The fund is designated to offset short-term financial need and is not intended to replace or supplement financial aid.

CARES Act: The University has applied for and now received funding from the federal CARES Act for Emergency Student Grants. These grants have eligibility restrictions placed by the U.S. Department of Education that would have kept many of our students from receiving assistance. However, we are pleased to announce that the USAO Foundation has funded grants to the portion of the student body that was excluded. Grants are being based on enrollment status as of the Friday before Spring-break. The tiers are part time $181 (3-5 credit hours), half time $354, three quarter time $548, and full-time $768. The funds are to help offset the cost associated with moving from traditional delivery of education to online delivery. This would include the cost of internet service, laptops, fuel, moving expense, and childcare. The Business Office will begin processing the grants May 11, 2020. We anticipate that all checks and deposits through Herring Bank (if you have previously elected to receive refunds through that process) will be completed and mailed by the end of that week. We will be mailing checks to the last address on file so if you need to change your address you will need to email Katie Sanders at ksanders@usao.edu using your University email account by Tuesday, May 12, 2020. For security reasons we will not accept change of addresses by any other form. Additionally, the University and Foundation are setting up a fund that students can apply to if you have expense related COVID-19 change in education delivery that exceeded the amount received through the initial grant above. There will be additional information released as we establish the process.

Commencement: RSC held a virtual commencement ceremony on May 8 to recognize its 2020 graduate class.

Travel: All official international travel is suspended until further notice, effective immediately. All official domestic travel will be carefully assessed on a case-by-case basis examining the mission criticality of the travel and the degree of virus transmission at the destination. Further domestic travel that has not been officially processed is suspended until further notice. The College strongly urges prudent analysis with regard to domestic and international air travel for personal travel. Members of the RSC community who are taking personal international air travel are strongly encouraged to reconsider the needs of the travel. Further, employees taking personal international air travel must be ready to comply with self-isolation procedures and requirements. Those who have traveled out of the country or on a cruise will not be allowed back on campus for fourteen days and should self-isolate.

Summer 2020 Courses: Rose State College will host Kids College and Teen Scene classes online this summer. The new format allows for students to safely learn and have fun with wacky instructors teaching STEM, cooking, art, sports, and other educational topics. Classes will start as scheduled on June 8 and run through August 3rd. Visit www.rose.edu/kids for more information.

Fall 2020: Students will be back for in-person classes in the fall at Rose State College. Plans are being made for a phased approach to bring faculty and staff back to campus. The President's Office stated, "If the situation models hold true, please be assured that by August 1st we plan on being 100% operational with classes starting back up on August 17th." The college is piloting a flex course offering this summer through its Business division to ensure students can attain their academic goals no matter the situation. The flex option is a combination of delivery modalities. Classes will be set up with scheduled meeting times, room location and a professor. Flex courses allow a student to meet face-to-face in the classroom, but the same class can be taken solely online or in a combination of online and distance learning. The flex course will be expanded to other divisions in the fall.

Summer 2020 Courses: Due to the continue effects and unknown ramifications of the COVID-19 pandemic, we have decided to offer all summer academic courses on an online basis only. We are optimistic that our society and campus may be able to return to some normalcy in the coming months, but understand that it is not prudent to delay decisions and planning for the summer term.

Fall 2020: SSC will offer face-to-face, online, Zoom and hybrid courses for the fall semester. It is understood that, depending on resurgence of the COVID-19 pandemic and subsequent CDC recommendations, students and faculty must be prepared to pivot to virtual delivery. Some classes will be restructured to incorporate online instruction with reduced face-to-face classroom time. Over 80 classes will be offered online for the Fall term. Due to mandatory social distancing regarding COVID-19, a few adjustments have been made to the enrollment process. New students may use scheduling links to make an appointment and see us in person, or we are continuing to enroll via email with a few documents that will need to be scanned and emailed to admissions (please see the announcement online for this list). Returning students that need to enroll may either contact their advisor, come to campus and meet with an advisor using scheduling links, or call the advising office on campus. Please contact: Admissions at (405) 382-9230 or admissions@sscok.edu, Advising at (405) 382-9797 or advising@sscok.edu, or Financial Aid at (405) 382-9247 or finaid@sscok.edu. The donation included 26 boxes of DemaAssist synthetic powder-free gloves, 3 boxes of Nitrile gloves and 30 packets of disposable gowns. The hospital has long served as a site for clinicals for SSC nursing students. SSC President Lana Reynolds said that the College also reached out to the local Alliance Health facility in Seminole and are looking for ways to assist with their needs. On Tuesday, May 12 from 10 a.m. – 2 p.m. in front of Tanner Hall on the Seminole State College Campus, the Infant Crisis Services' BabyMobile will be offering a drive-through diaper service for families in need.

CARES Act: Seminole State College has received an allocation of the Higher Education Emergency Relief Fund that is being provided by the U.S. Department of Education through the CARES Act. These funds will be distributed to our students based on specific guidance from the U.S. Department of Education as well as procedures established by SSC. Students must be eligible for Title IV federal aid to qualify for this program, but, not necessarily recipients of those grants. Students will be contacted about steps to take to receive funding, based on their credit hour enrollment. Our current projections are that qualifying students who were taking 15 credit hours this Spring will receive $675. This money will be disbursed quickly. Please encourage students you have contact with to take advantage of this program.

Graduation Week kicks off May 17 and students are asked to stop by May 17, 18, or 19 to have their picture taken in front of the marquee of the Circle Cinema. Summer 2020 Courses: TCC summer classes will move to online and distance learning following its decision to shift classes for the current semester. For some students, this will mean a virtual classroom experience at the same day and time as the scheduled class. For others, it means using lectures captured by video to be viewed when the student has time. For other subjects, such as a science course with a lab component, this means using the best resources or shared resources to teach the concepts of outcomes. There have been modifications to the Application Process for the Veterinary Technology Applicants. Please see the TCC News Updates website for more information. The World Language Lab is available for online tutoring appointments.

Fall 2020: Fall course schedule is underway. Fall classes will resume with options in online, online live, blended and in-person classes. The redesign, which affects 80 percent of the class sections, includes the following options for our students: Online: content is delivered through the internet, no scheduled full-class meetings; Online Live: online “web-conference style” courses meet at a scheduled time, and students are required to be present online, live at that time; Blended: part online, part on campus with scheduled face-to-face time(s) following physical space guidelines on campus; Face-to-Face: held at specific times following physical space guidelines on campus. Housing and Dining: Residential students will return to campus following protocol developed by campus administration and Oklahoma Department of Health staff. Students will be checked into college housing in shifts of small groups. They will receive health and safety related information and be tested for COVID-19. Students that test positive will be quarantined following CDC guidelines. Students who room with or have been in close contact to a student that tests positive may also be quarantined as deemed appropriate by the Oklahoma Department of Health.

Commencement: With a very heavy heart, the decision has been made to cancel Western’s regularly scheduled 2020 nursing pinning ceremony and graduation. Unfortunately, COVID-19 has caused turmoil for many. It is our hope to provide graduates with an opportunity to celebrate their accomplishments at some time in the future. However, with all the uncertainties in the world we do not want to make a promise that we are unable to keep. We hope that you understand that this decision was not taken lightly, and the goal is to maintain public health and do our part. Of course, we are proud of every single student and their accomplishments. When the college is able to open to the public, students who have purchased a cap and gown may return them to the Student Store for a full refund.

Travel: Travel for all college-related business or academic purposes (regardless of prepayment) is suspended unless such travel is deemed absolutely critical to the college and approved in advance by the Office of the President.

Summer 2020 Courses: Summer enrollment will open April 20. Information regarding virtual placement testing will be posted soon, as well as a process for students needing assistance with enrollment. The decision has been made to offer the summer session in a completely virtual format as there is a strong possibility the campus may still be closed when summer school begins on May 26. Courses listed as online will remain 100% online. However, courses listed with a meeting date and time will be taught live and students will use Zoom to attend those courses virtually.

Fall 2020: Many classes that are being offered face-to-face will also have an extended classroom with virtual seats. Students who enroll in this section will join remotely at the scheduled class time via Zoom. There is no additional fee for those who enroll for a seat in the extended classroom.

Fall 2020 COVID-19 Mitigation Efforts: To view WOSC's Fall 2020 Semester Working Plan, please visit <https://www.wosc.edu/index.php?page=covid19#updates>. To remain in compliance with the City of Altus, facial coverings will be required while in all campus buildings.

Community Support: Western's nursing program has donated gowns, gloves, shoe covers and hair covers to Great Plains Regional Medical Center in Elk City. The campus also partnered with the Jackson County Health department by providing facilities and volunteers for a COVID-19 drive-thru testing on April 1, 2020.

CARES Act: Western Oklahoma State College has submitted an application to take part in the CARES Act. We are currently working with the Oklahoma State Regents for Higher Education and our counterparts across the state to determine a fair and equitable way to disperse funds to students when they are available. As soon as we have more information regarding this matter we will share via student emails and the COVID-19 Updates link on the Western home page.

Technical Branches

Oklahoma State University Institute of Technology (as September 8)

Employees: We will begin to re-open campus in waves, with the first employee group returning May 20 and our second wave returning to campus on June 3. Before May 20, the OSUIT vice presidents will identify, for their respective areas, the essential personnel that need to return to campus to make preparations for the summer semester with the following considerations: continue following safe-at-home guidelines if they are over 65 or part of a vulnerable population; maintain social distancing from others; use PPE when appropriate using the guidelines established by OSUIT; use virtual meetings when possible and appropriate; follow proper cleaning/sanitation protocols. Facial coverings/masks are required in all OSUIT facilities. This guidance is also effective on campus grounds and outdoor areas where social distancing cannot be maintained.

Students: campus services from the Grady Clack Center will be delivered through alternative methods such as phone calls, emails, texting, and other technology-mediated channels. OSUIT's Childcare Center and Covelle Hall have been closed temporarily. The computer lab in the OSUIT library will be open from noon to 8 p.m., Monday through Friday, on a call-ahead basis. Most buildings will have limited access. Student Union operations, including the bookstore and post office, will resume limited business hours. The Cowboy Café will close all dining rooms and offer a limited menu for take-out. Culinary Arts has discontinued meal service for the remainder of the term. All guided campus tours have been suspended temporarily. However, we will be offering virtual tours via Facebook Live. Facial coverings/masks are required in all OSUIT facilities. This guidance is also effective on campus grounds and outdoor areas where social distancing cannot be maintained.

Housing: OSUIT has reduced housing occupancy levels for the remainder of the spring trimester. Residential Life is working closely with those students who have no other housing options and will assist them on a case-by-case basis.

Commencement: Spring graduates will be sent a package that includes their regalia and diploma with an invitation to either walk in our summer commencement or share their own family celebration through social media using the hashtag "OSUITgrad." Details about this plan will be sent to spring graduates directly.

Travel: Effective March 13, all university-sponsored international travel is prohibited until further notice. International travel for personal reasons is strongly discouraged. Effective immediately, all non-essential university-sponsored domestic air travel is suspended until further notice. See the table on the OSUIT Coronavirus Student Announcements page for details on all parts of term. The modality of instruction, whether online or face-to-face, may require additional adjustment depending on the status of the pandemic over the next few months. Some classes will begin with online learning and transition to face-to-face learning as time and social distancing recommendations allow. Other classes will only be offered online. As a result of the uncertainty around the pandemic's effect on our instructional methods, all online electronic media fees will be waived for the summer 2020 term.

Fall 2020: OSUIT is planning to return more courses to in-person instruction for the fall semester beginning September 21. In order to comply with social distancing guidelines, each course instruction may include a different delivery method including in-person, blended, hybrid, or fully online.

This policy goes into effect Monday, August 10. Students and staff will be provided a face mask. You may wear your own individual mask if you choose. Staff and students may remove their mask in offices and classrooms when they're the only one present in the room. The UC is making every effort to support students and ensure they can continue with their studies throughout the semester. If a student must quarantine due to a documented COVID-19 exposure, the UC will provide a laptop to the student if they choose to utilize one during their quarantine. Students who have had a COVID-19 exposure may access the UC's wireless network from the parking lot to connect to classes and instruction. Students wishing to utilize the UC and are not enrolled in courses physically at the UC may purchase a badge for $20 to acquire facility access. This includes access to the wireless network, printers, and computer labs.
